PROFILE

I thrive on creative front-end challenges and enjoy implementing UI trends into my current projects. I have a particular interest in accessible UX design and believe the key to a product's long-term success is putting the user's experience first.

I spent 4 years working on yachts and in hospitality, before returning home to continue my education and transition to a career in Web Development and UX/UI design.
Having completed my boot-camp and diploma, I am looking for a graduate/junior position within a strong team to further my industry knowledge.

Equipped with a conscientious work ethic - I am a reliable, proactive colleague with a keen eye for detail, and will never skip an opportunity to learn something new.
